Sobre a Emerald Publishing

Emerald Publishing

Por mais de 50 anos, defender novas idéias está no coração da Emerald.

The background of the entire image is a photograph of a crowd of people at night, holding up lit sparklers. The scene is out of focus, with the light from the sparklers creating a bokeh effect against the dark sky. The overall mood is festive and celebratory.

Abstract

Purpose

The purpose of this paper is to develop an assessment model for corporate social responsibility (CSR) that is interlinked to sustainable development and examine the model on CSR cases in Egypt, exploring whether CSR is embedded into the core agenda of the corporations. Design/methodology/approach

The study presents a sustainable development assessment model for CSR, based on combining and modifying Archie Carroll's model of Hierarchy of Corporate Responsibilities (1979, 2010) and Donna Wood's Corporate Performance Model (1991) to include sustainable development imperatives. The
